By TOM MASTERSON

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—A Brazilian jetliner with 102 persons aboard skidded off the runway on takeoff Monday night, plowed through a thick concrete seawall and dived in flames into Guanabara Bay. Most of the passengers were rescued or scrambled to safety.

Officials said at least 12 persons were killed and 21 hospitalized with shock, burns and other injuries in Brazil's fourth major air disaster in 10 months.

The big DC8 stayed afloat for 15 minutes after hitting the water and then sank to the muddy bottom in 15 feet of water.

"Some bodies may still be in the plane," a fire department official said.

Officials said 11 passengers were missing but some were known to have survived and left the airport without notifying anyone.

The Panair do Brazil airliner carrying 92 passengers and crew of 10 stopped over here on a flight from Buenos Aires, Argentina, to Lisbon, Portugal.

A stewardess, Fernanda Fortunata, was the only crewmember reported killed.

It was not determined immediately whether any Americans were aboard.

Slayer of 4 Sentenced to Reformatory

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Donna Marie Stone, 14, a bobbycutter who admits taking part in four slayings, has been sentenced to an indeterminate reformatory term. She pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of voluntary manslaughter.

Her trial on murder charges in the shooting of a Belleville man and his young daughter had just been called Monday in Circuit Court when the state recommended the charges be reduced to voluntary manslaughter.

She will remain at the State Girl's Training School at Geneva, Ill., until she is 21, when the State Parole Board will rule on her fate, but 14 years is the maximum term for voluntary manslaughter and she must be freed when she is 28.

She had been charged here in the slayings of George Ballard, 49, and his daughter, Carol, 10, last Aug. 30.

The pudgy teen-ager also admitted having a part in the deaths of a kidnapped Belleville woman, Miss Margaret Wernicke, 39, and of Lee Dekraai, 30, of Ottumwa, a hitchhiker in Texas.

Her lover, ex-convict John Edwin Myer, 33, is awaiting execution in Texas for the Dekraai murder.

The Stone girl and Myer said they killed the four for money. They got $17.

Few Back But Space Center Strike Still on

Huntsville, Ala. (AP)—The Marshall Space Flight Center reported today that increasing numbers of building trades workers were returning to their jobs on vital space projects. But the center added that electricians, who went on strike last week, remained off the job.

S. Paul Styles, chief of industrial relations at the center, said the Corps of Engineers estimated that 68 per cent were on the job.

But the absence of the 150 electricians, whose strike triggered the mass walkout last Tuesday, left work stymied on the Saturn test tower, part of this nation's Moonshot program.

Styles estimated that about 48 per cent of the construction work force was on the job Monday, when the back-to-work movement started.

Meanwhile, some of the contractors at the space center planned to discuss a report that their contract could be canceled if they failed to fulfill their contractual obligations.

2 Nations Will Aid Refugees in the Future

BERLIN (AP)—U.S., British and French commandants in Berlin announced today they will station an ambulance at Checkpoint Charlie in an attempt to aid any future victims of Communist bullet on the eastern side of the wall. Checkpoint Charlie is the crossing point of the wall in the U.S. sector where East German guards mortally wounded a fleeing East German, touching off a series of disorders in West Berlin.

West Berliners even attacked West Berlin police, stoned U.S. positions and attacked Soviet buses entering West Berlin.

The three Western commandants and Mayor Willy Brandt denounced rioters who attacked West Berlin police.

"Moreover," they said, "physical violence against Soviet vehicles also plays into Soviet hands and must not occur."

"The maintenance of law and order must not be jeopardized," their joint statement said, "by the irresponsible actions of a small minority including Communist agents provocateur."

In the West German capital of Bonn, authoritative sources said the West German Embassy in Washington has been instructed to ask the Western Allies to take two additional steps.

1. Ask the International Red Cross to intervene with the Communists to stop the shooting.

2. Ask the Russians to allow West Berliners to visit relatives in East Berlin.

Earlier a U.S. spokesman disclosed that Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, the U.S. commandant, had twice brushed off Soviet attempts to protest the stoning of Soviet buses.

He said the Soviet deputy commandant, Col. C. V. Tarasov, called on the mission headquarters Sunday and Monday night to protest the stonings by West Berliners angered by the fatal wounding of an East German refugee by East Berlin border guards.

"On his second call, the Soviet officer was told that Gen. Watson was not available to meet him," the spokesman said.

Soviet buses, taking replacements to guard the Soviet war memorial in West Berlin, have been attacked with rocks by West Berlin youths four times since the Red wall dividing Berlin.

Watson today received West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt. They were understood to have discussed the demonstrations on the wall by West Berliners which have grown more violent every day.

West Berlin informants hinted that Watson is angry about the frequent stoning of the Soviet bus and apparent police inability to protect it against youthful rioters.

These sources said Watson is demanding that the West Berlin administration take all necessary precautionary measures to prevent the rock hurling.

The stonings have occurred in the U.S. sector of Berlin for which Watson, as top representative of the occupying power, has ultimate jurisdiction.

Brandt will meet the three Western commandants in an attempt to get more Allied support for Berliners along the wall.

Car Stolen at Texarkana Is Recovered

Hope City Police cornered a stolen car at the Pak-A-Sak store on Third St. last night and arrested four of the five occupants.

Police Chief Jack Brown said Delmer Charles Oller, about 30, of Texas, is being held by Texarkana authorities. He is alleged to have stolen a 1961 Buick auto from Daisy Power early yesterday at Texarkana, Texas.

Three other persons, all local, were arrested. A man and a woman were charged with being drunk, another is being held for investigation and a second woman was released, Mr. Brown said.

We don't think the local persons were involved in the theft, Mr. Brown said, but indicated they were being held pending a complete investigation. They told us they were picked up by Oller during the day, the Chief said.

Officers expect to turn Oller over to the FBI sometime today.

National Debt Over $300 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—The national debt has risen to over $300 billion for the first time.

As of Aug. 15, the treasury announced Monday, the total public debt was $300,133,027,10.51.

That is about $1,600 for every man, woman and child in the country. The per capita debt figure, however, is well below the World War II high of nearly $2,000 because the population has increased faster than the debt.

The debt now is subject to a temporary limit of $308 billion. This will drop to $305 billion next April 5, to $300 billion June 25 and to $283 billion—the permanent ceiling—next July 1.

NLR Owns Land
NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—North Little Rock owns the land under its Central Fire Station after all.

Last week it looked as though Little Rock had owned the land since Dec. 13, 1894. But Monday it was discovered that a quitclaim deed was given to North Little Rock by the Little Rock City Council in 1928. The deed had been in the North Little Rock City Hall since 1928, but never recorded. It is now.

Texarkana, Ark. (AP)—Police said today they still had not located three men, including a man accused of murder, who escaped from the Miller County jail Sunday.

Roadblocks remained up on all highways leading out of Texarkana.

The escapees were Jerrell Marlar, 32, of Hope; Charles Easley, 20, of Fouke and Leslie Melvin Simmons, 41.

Simmons was held for car theft, Easley for deserting the Army, and Marlar on a murder charge.

He and Marie Derr were held in the slaying of Thomas Bond of Bossier City, La., two months ago. The woman is undergoing a psychiatric examination at the State Hospital in Little Rock.

Sheriff Rudy Burgess said the men escaped after clubbing jailer Bill Arterbury with a sock containing a bar of soap. Arterbury was not seriously hurt.

Home From Prison by Laos Reds

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Edward R. Shore Jr. returned home today after 15 months as a prisoner of Laotian Communists and said "the first thing I want to do is sleep."

Shore, one of five Americans released by the Communists Friday, was met at the airport here by his weeping mother and beaming father after a big jetliner brought him in on the last leg of a journey from Manila.

"He doesn't look any different," observed Mrs. Shore as she dabbed away the tears. She had been worried that her bachelor son might have lost much weight during his ordeal.

The family's farm home at near-by Gallaway, Tenn., will be the site of a three-week rest for the 30-year-old Shore before he goes to Washington to make plans for the future.

"I don't know about going back to the same kind of work," said Shore, "that's what I've got a leave to think over."

Shore was piloting a helicopter for Air America when his craft was forced down in the Laotian jungle by mechanical failure May 15, 1961. He had resigned his Army captain's commission to fly for the government backed private firm.

Shore was captured by the Communists and held in a prison camp for 15 months.

He was released by the Communists and returned to the United States.

Rusk Pressures to Ease Berlin Wall Tension

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk called in Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin today to press for a meeting of Allied and Soviet commandants in Berlin.

U.S. sources said Washington has given clearance for U.S. soldiers in West Berlin to supply medical assistance to East German wounded on the Communist side of the Berlin wall.

U.S. sources stated also that the leeway given U.S. troops in Berlin does not include permission to help East Germans in their attempts to escape to the West. Any assistance, it was said would be confined to medical aid.

Rusk called in Dobrynin on short notice after the Western Allies had discussed what to do about mounting tensions in the wake of last Friday's slow death of a wounded East German lying on the Communist side of the wall.

Angry West Berliners have been demonstrating with such acts as stone throwing at Soviet vehicles entering West Berlin.

State Department press officer Joseph W. Reap said Rusk and Dobrynin met for 20 minutes and discussed the events of the last few days in Berlin.

"The secretary underlined the need for the four commandants to get together to find ways to reduce tensions in the city," Reap said.

"It is and has been our position that the situation can best be dealt with by those on the scene."

U.S. officials blamed the Russians for summarily rejecting renewed Western proposals for four-power discussion of the Berlin wall problem.

They acknowledged that the West has rejected Russian complaints about the stonings. But they said the mortal wounding of the East German youth was a far more serious matter than rocks hurled at a bus carrying Soviet soldiers.

Garland May Merge 11 Townships

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Garland County may lose 11 townships at a hearing Aug. 31st before Circuit Judge P. E. Dolbs and Garland County Republicans don't like it.

It, Julian Glover, head of the county Election Commission filed a petition with Circuit Court Monday asking that several townships be merged, reducing the number from 6 to 15.

The Republicans have 27 candidates for justices of the peace, many in the townships which would be affected. If Dolbs rules that the townships may merge, some of the candidates would have no position for which to run.

Many of the townships don't like it either. They feel the mergers would leave them without adequate representation in county governmental affairs. The townships now are represented on the county quorum court by justices of the peace.

The election commission petitioned the county court to reduce the number of townships in 1955, contending that construction of Lake Ouachita between Mount Ida and Hot Springs would change boundaries, eliminate many small communities and thus change the area's population.

County Judge Jim Lowery refused to hear the case and Gov. Orval E. Faubus appointed attorney Jim Wood Chesnut to hear it.

Chesnut ruled that the townships could be merged. Circuit Judge C. Floyd Huff overruled Chesnut on an appeal, but the case was appealed to the state Supreme Court which reversed Huff and upheld Chesnut.

Glover said he had petitioned Dolbs to hear the case "de-novo," as though it were brand new.

Rain Eases Conditions in Few Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Scattered showers eased dry conditions in a few parts of Arkansas Monday, but there wasn't enough rain to alleviate overall growing drought conditions.

Camden reported a heavy thunderstorm, accompanied by hail and high winds. It lasted 30 minutes and flooded several streets. Several trees were blown down. There were no injuries or extensive property damage.

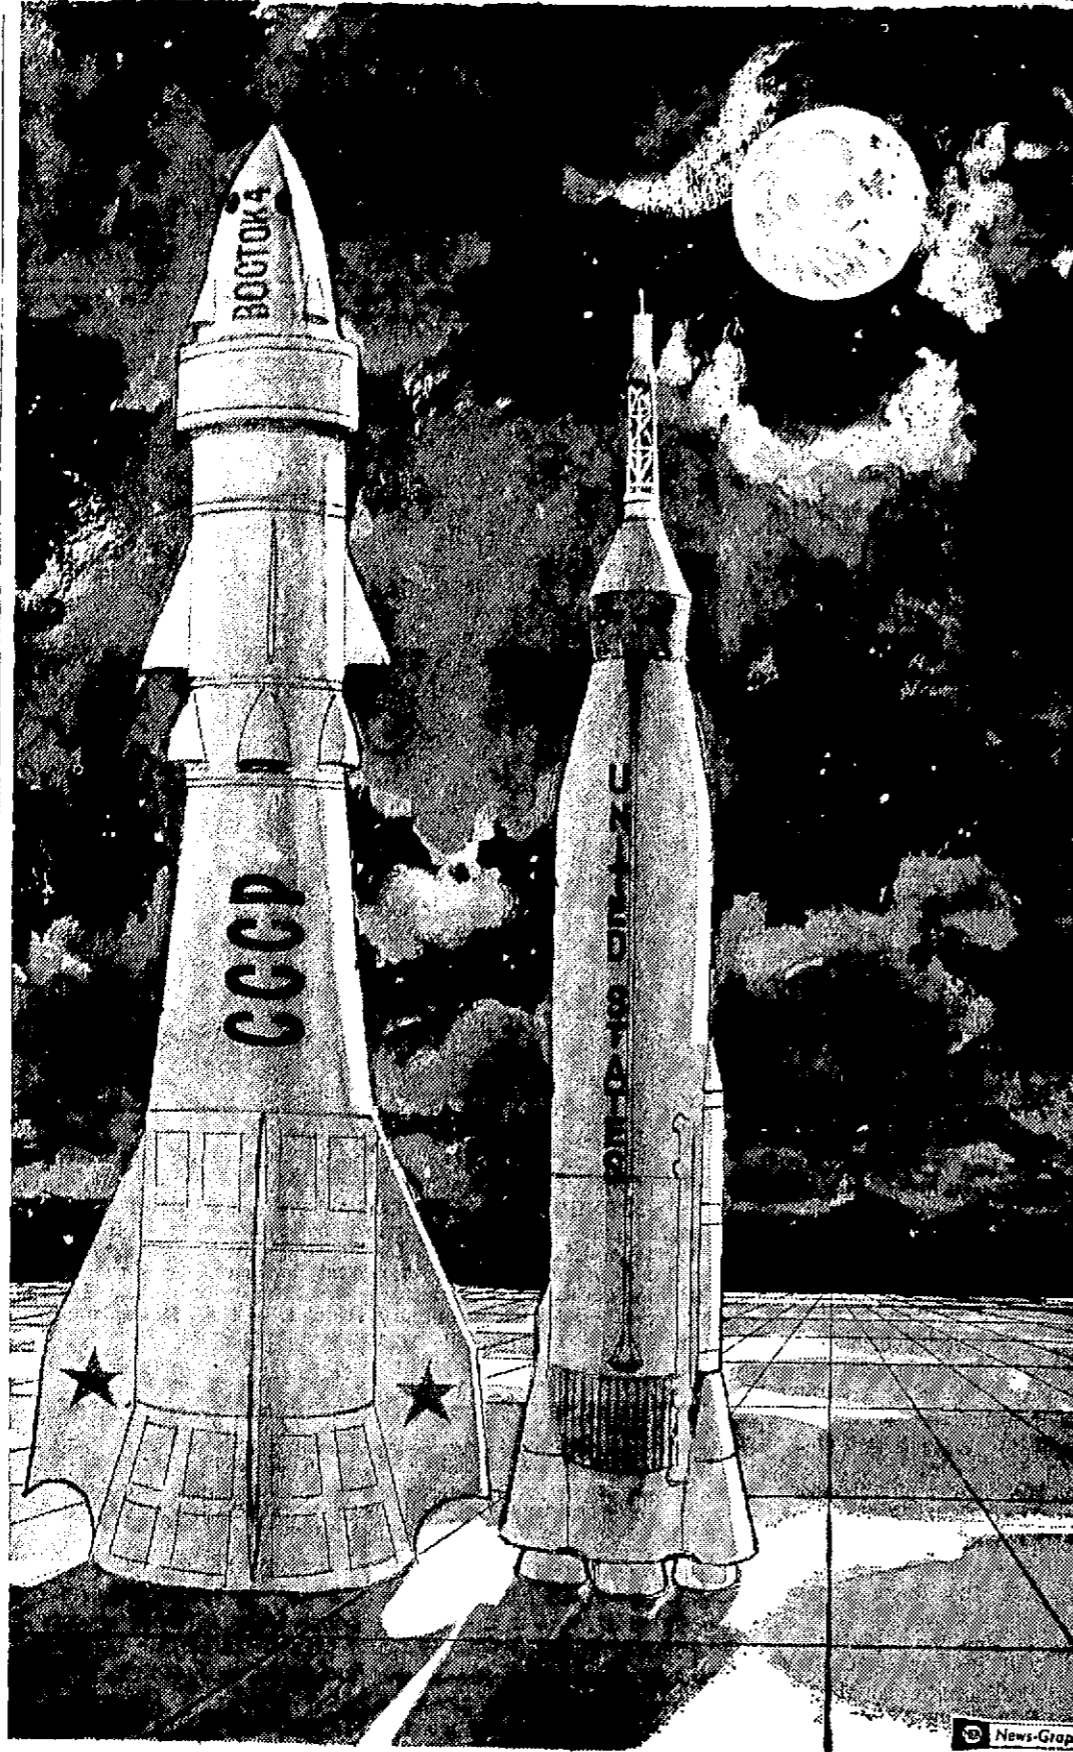

Several other points in north, west and south Arkansas received rain, but no rain was reported in the cotton growing area of east Arkansas, where hot, dry weather is threatening the crop.

The forecast called for clear to partly cloudy and hot through Wednesday with widely scattered afternoon and evening thunderstorms.

Jessieville, near Hot Springs, got 2.10 inches of rain in the 24-hour period ended at 6 a.m. today. Haley near Mt. Ida reported 1.12 inches. Camden had .85 of an inch. Salem .67, Fayetteville .30, Fort Smith .27, Ozark .14, Portland .05 and Pine Bluff .02. Several points reported a trace.

The record temperature for Aug. 21 in Arkansas is 100 degrees, set in 1896, and it could be broken today, the Weather Bureau in Little Rock said.

In the Camden thunderstorm,

Beside it is the U.S. Atlas-Mercury combination, used to orbit this country's astronauts. The drawing is not to scale, for the Soviets have never revealed the dimensions or any other details about their huge booster. It is, however, larger and much more powerful than the Atlas.

state Highways 4 and 24 were flooded and detours were set up. A huge oak tree was blown across U. S. Highway 79 and Highway Department crews worked for an hour with power saws to cut it up and move it.

It was the first rain in the Camden area in six weeks, and farmers said it would help crops. But they added that a longer rain was needed.

Forests over the state were very dry and the Forestry Commission said serious fires could result.

A record 103-degree temperature was reported in Little Rock Monday. Jonesboro had 102, Walnut Ridge 101, Fort Smith and Pine Bluff 99, El Dorado and Texarkana 97, Fayetteville and Harrison 95.

Any pecking damage to a tree done by woodpeckers is outweighed by their eating of destructive insects.

Pickets Don't Return to L. R. Cafe

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Negro pickets did not show up today at a Negro-owned cafe they contend is segregated.

The cafe was closed for cleaning today. Mrs. L. C. Bates, former state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said the pickets would march again Wednesday, as they did Monday, with signs protesting segregated facilities.

Mrs. Clarence (Doll) Robinson, who owns Fisher's Barbecue, said her cafe did not have segregated policies. "There's no difference in people here," she said. "We treat everybody the same."

She said Negroes and white persons could sit anywhere they wanted to. Audrey Fields, a spokesman for the pickets, said the cafe had two air conditioned rooms for white patrons only. He said Negroes are served in an old room that is not air conditioned.

Mrs. Robinson said she had a dining room for private parties but that there were no seating rules for the rest of the cafe. L. C. Bates, a field secretary for the NAACP, said the NAACP helped the pickets but did not sponsor the activity. The picket line consisted of four small children, three women and one man.

Mrs. Robinson said the picketing "hurt a little yesterday," but she said she did not intend to change the operation of the cafe. She said the cafe was closed every Tuesday. She said she had been operating the business for 24 years.

Youth Admits to Bank Robbery

TEMPLE, Ga. (AP)—The teenage son of a textile worker said he robbed the Bank of Temple of $5,167 just to see if he could get away with it. He was captured within 10 minutes.

James E. McMahon, special FBI agent, said the youth, Kenneth Ray Liner, 15, was charged with bank robbery in a federal warrant.

Liner had two loaded weapons in his father's 1952 car when he was stopped—a .22 pistol under the front seat and a .22 rifle on the back seat, police said.

Glenda Shadrux, 23, a bank teller, said the bandit displayed a pistol and told her, "Let me have all the money you have and all the money in the vault."

Miss Shadrux and Linda Riggs, 19, a bookkeeper, were alone at the time. C. R. Hart, the bank president, was at lunch,

Poll Tax Bill to Be Revived

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House leadership will try next Monday for a vote on a proposed amendment to the Constitution prohibiting the poll tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections.

Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said Monday the proposed amendment will be called up under a procedure requiring a favorable vote of two-thirds of the House members present.

The bill has been lodged in the House Rules Committee since the Senate passed it March 27.

Five states now impose taxes on registered voters. They are Virginia, Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi and Texas. If passed by Congress the amendment would have to be ratified by 38 of the 50 states to become effective.

Entering College Will Get Tougher

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. Marshall T. Steel, president of Hendrix College at Conway, said Monday both public and private colleges in Arkansas probably will have to tighten their entrance requirements in the next few years.

Dr. Steel said rising enrollments and limited college financing and facilities will lead to the more stringent requirements.

The trend is away from admitting a student simply because he has graduated from an accredited high school, Steel said.

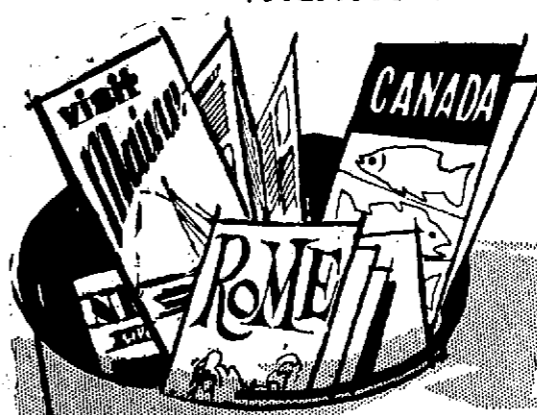

Dr. Steel was addressing a North Little Rock civic club.

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The board of trustees of Arkansas Tech College has approved the sale of $290,000 in bonds to the federal government to pay for 32 apartments for married students.

Charges Filed in Pine Bluff Slaying

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — A charge of second degree murder has been filed against A. H. Pruening, 47, of Sulphur Springs in connection with death of Lee Golden, 48, also of Sulphur Springs.

Police said Golden died Saturday of injuries suffered when he was struck by a wrench handle. Police quoted Pruening as saying he hit Golden with the wrench handle after Golden reached for a shotgun at Pruening's home. Police said the action took place Friday.

Pruening and Golden had argued, police said.

July Produces 20 Million Chicks

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Commercial hatcheries in Arkansas produced 20,044,000 chicks during July, slightly greater than the number hatched the same month in 1961, the Crop Reporting Service said today.

Egg-type chick production in July was down 31 per cent from a year earlier, but broiler hatchings were 1 per cent greater.

Chick output by hatcheries in the United States during July totaled 206,384,000 chicks compared with 208,792,000 in July 1961. Production of broiler chicks, at 182,862,000, was down 2 per cent from July of a year ago.

Money Bags Examined for Robbery Clue

BOSTON (AP) — Nine money bags found by state police in Andover were given laboratory tests today to see if they have any connection with the $1.5-million mail truck robbery in Plymouth a week ago.

William F. White, chief postal inspector in New England who is in charge of the investigation, made the disclosure at his morning news conference.

White issued an appeal through newsmen or any person who might have seen the mail truck the night of the robbery to furnish whatever information they possess to police, the FBI or postal inspectors.

The head of the Massachusetts State Police, Frank S. Giles said his department had been "thrown a curve" last week when it was agreed the postal inspectors would head the probe. Giles added: "We're not out of this yet."

Giles said state police had requested to be relieved of providing escorts for the U.S. Post Office Department's hauling large sums of money. But he said the police pulled out only after the postal service had informed them that other arrangements had been made.

A gang hijacked an unarmored, unescorted U.S. mail van in Plymouth, on its way from Cape Cod to the Federal Reserve Bank in Boston.

THE SLOPPY MIRACLE

By STEVE APRIL

As I was changing from the torn sweatshirt and dungarees I wore around the pottery shop to the sweatshirt and dungarees I wear the rest of the time, May phoned. "Don't forget we're having supper at Uncle's tonight. Wear a suit, a shirt and tie, you have to make an impression."

"Don't worry about it, hon. I'll be waiting outside your office at five." I didn't have to make an impression. I was the poor relative being handed a job.

When I got home I shaved and put on my tuxedo suit. The last time I'd worn it had been during the summer, at the sea shore, when we went to eat at the hotel. It had rained like crazy and I had to have the suit pressed to May's sarcastic wail "It's about time!"

May had agreed to let me try making ceramics full time for six months, and the shop had barely shown a profit. So it was no more dreams, but bucking down to a regular job.

My wallet stuck in the inside pocket of the tuxedo jacket. I wondered what I could have left there all these months. Then I pulled out a neat roll of $10 bills. Fifty of them.

May was just coming out of the office building as I walked up. Giving me a fast kiss, a whispered, "You look swell!"

"Come off it. What's that idea of putting $500 bucks in my suit? I could have bought a larger kiln, really had a pottery shop that . . ."

"What on earth are you talking about?"

I pulled out the roll of $10s. May's eyes grew larger at seeing the money. "May, honey, you— you didn't put this in my suit?"

"Of course not! Where would I get $500?"

Taking May in my arms, kissing her, I whispered, "Let's forget how it could have got in my pocket. Hon, maybe this is an omen of some kind. Listen, since we don't know who to return the money to, let's take a real chance."

"Like what?"

"This money will keep the shop going for about a month. Yeah, let's the two of us turn out this idea I've had about box pitchers with bright stripes, a high glaze. Hon, if this is a cockeyed miracle of some kind, let's give it a big try—see if we can sell the quality stores."

Perhaps you've seen our pitchers: we sold every one I made, then hired help to mass-produce them for the department stores. Within two months we were exporting the pitchers. This summer, when we managed to get in a weekend at the seashore, we drove there in our new station wagon. I was still wearing my usual sweatshirt and dungarees and we had to stop at the motel instead of the hotel. May was sore and to please her, I took her wrinkled skirt to the village, to be pressed.

The tailor was an old man with a pasty-white face. Peering at me over his narrow glasses, he said, "I remember you, but you it couldn't be—all the time in a shirt and dungarees."

"What couldn't I be?" I asked handing him the skirt.

"The man who has my money. Last summer there was plenty of hold-ups here. I was saving money for a new store front—kept it in some customer's suit. Robbers never think of looking for money there. Well, it's a long sad story, pains me to tell it. Here's your receipt, mister. Skirt be ready tomorrow."

"What's a new store front cost?"

"What's a new store front cost?"

"What's a new store front cost?"

"What's a new store front cost?"

"What's a new store front cost?"

"What's a new store front cost?"

"What's a new store front cost?"

"What's a new store front cost?"
